It was Peter's first day at school. He was sitting on the bench. He wanted to play with his friends. He was very shy so he did not play with them.

Then, a boy wanted to play with Peter. The boy said to Peter, "Can I play basketball with you, please?" Peter was very excited. He replied to the boy, "No problem. You can play with me." The boy said, "Thank you very much!"

After that, his leg was injured so he was crying. The boy found him crying. The boy said to Peter, "What is wrong with you?" Peter said, "I fell to the ground and it is so painful."

At the end, the boy took Peter to the medical room. The boy was very worried about Peter. Fortunately, Peter could leave the medical room after a check-up.
